At Tech we're starting something BIG!

ARSENAL TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

1991 — 1992

IPS — TECH... The Start of Something Big

When students walked into homeroom 8:20 a.m. on Monday, August 26, 1991, it was obvious that Tech had changed.

Foreign Language Magnet moved from Stuart Hall to remodeled Allen Hall, formerly "The Barn." Freshmen joined the Tech Family through the rebirth of Freshmen Orientation. Teachers were enthusiastic to use new and exciting teaching techniques. Principal June Collins Rimmer's Vision become a vision the entire Tech Community is striving to make a reality. Teachers and students envisioned BIGGER and better opportunities — national recognition, prestigious honors and awards for teachers and students, better attendance, new rules, and self discipline.

Titan Spirit is gleaming because everyone knows that the changes around Tech is truly the start of something big!

Seniors Charna Bell, Shawn Sutton, Linda Thomas, Danielle Franklin, Diana McLucas, Lavonna Anderson, Tamyra Anderson, and Kimberly Bates are ready to start the year fresh.

Best friends Derrick Slack and Kalpesh Unune "chill."

Vice-Principal Gerald McLeish wants Tech to make a good first impression on new Titans during Sunday welcome.

"I have a vision..." Principal June Collins Rimmer welcomes new Titans. This is her second year leading the Titans.

STUDENT LIFE

Senior Aashish Patel presents Mrs. Barbara Bush with a Tech Titan t-shirt during her fall visit to the campus to kick off Indiana 2000.

IPS Superintendent Dr. Shirl Gilbert visits with student and signs an autograph during the Bush visit.

Mrs. Bush, Governor Bayh and the Secretaries of Education in U.S. and Indiana focused attention on education during their Tech visit.

Tysa Hardy interprets the Russian skit for Mrs. Barbara Bush and Governor Evan Bayh.

Selected students were present in Stuart for the Russian skit. Secret Service and White House staff were on Tech's campus several times to set up the visit for Mrs. Bush.

This Town Ain't BIG Enough. . .

It was dusk. Six of them lined up, each hoping to arouse the audience with his exceptional talent. They were typical cowboys: bold, eager, stalking their prey skillfully. They stood in the middle of the town waiting to draw their weapons. The townspeople watched with awe as the six prepared to shoot it out.

On Thursday, October 10, 1991, ten Tech students hosted a "shoot out of suggestions" in a town meeting in Anderson Auditorium. The gun: Indiana 2000. The cowboys: the six national education goals set by President George Bush and the nation's 50 governors.

Indiana 2000 is a statewide program to get us involved in improving education in our community. The Indiana 2000 effort begins by introducing the six national education goals.

These goals are designed to resolve our nation's skills and knowledge gap. When the goals are met: every child will start school ready to learn; the high school graduation rate will be over 90%; students will learn what they should know in English, history, math, science, and geography; American students will be first in the world in math and science; every adult will be literate and able to compete in a global economy; and, schools will be free of drugs and violence.

Under the leadership of Mr. Rollin Jump, Lavonna Anderson, Angelica Barnes, LaKenya Chancey, Jennifer Eroen, Tysha Hardy, Angela Holmes, Kelly Irwin, Derrick Slack, Dountonia Slack, and Tracee Wisdom made Indiana 2000 a successful "shoot out of suggestions".

The Titans are going to get ya! David Wetter, a pretend Ritter Raider, is kicked by the Titans.

The Jr. ROTC check their attire before they present the colors during the Homecoming parade.

Freshman Titans in Room 807 enter the door contest to show their spirit.

27-0 means nothing!

The 1991 Homecoming game ended with a 27-0 victory for Ritter. However, the defeat was not such a BIG thing to many Titans. With the excitement of seeing old friends and the crowning of the court, many didn't seem to mind "carrying on the tradition of losing the homecoming game," said senior Sheila Sutton. "Ever since I've been here we've lost homecoming. It's all a part of the homecoming tradition. I still had fun."

The 1991-1992 Homecoming court is King Michael Radford, Queen Donna Brown, Prince Chris Campbell, and Princess Tamika Cushenberry. During halftime the Homecoming Parade featured the band and floats. After the game, Titans jammed on the dance floor at the homecoming dance. "I hope we have more dances," said freshman Sherry Logwood.

Courtney Nowling and Eric McCall enjoy an evening at the Prom downtown at the Convention Center.

Jonathon Meyer gets freaked as the D.J. raps the night away.

SURPRISE! Nannette Belt had a "shocking experience" at the Prom.

Prom . . . Not So BIG After All

A time to remember. . . Well, for some Prom was disappointing. "I may just be an old-fashioned type of person, but I thought the whole night was rather sorry. I knew the night was going to be bad when I parked four blocks away for the promised 'limo service' and found I was on foot service. But when I got to the Convention Center, I found the limos parked in front. Still hoping to have fun, I was furious because all that was played was rap music and the decorations were scarce. Boy what a night," commented a junior.

Although some were disappointed, others enjoyed their evening. "Hey, the Prom wasn't all I expected it to be, but my date made the evening a memorable one. We laughed, sang, and danced the night away," said junior Marvin Harris.

Patrick Pettengill and Kristin Harling ready for an enchanted evening.

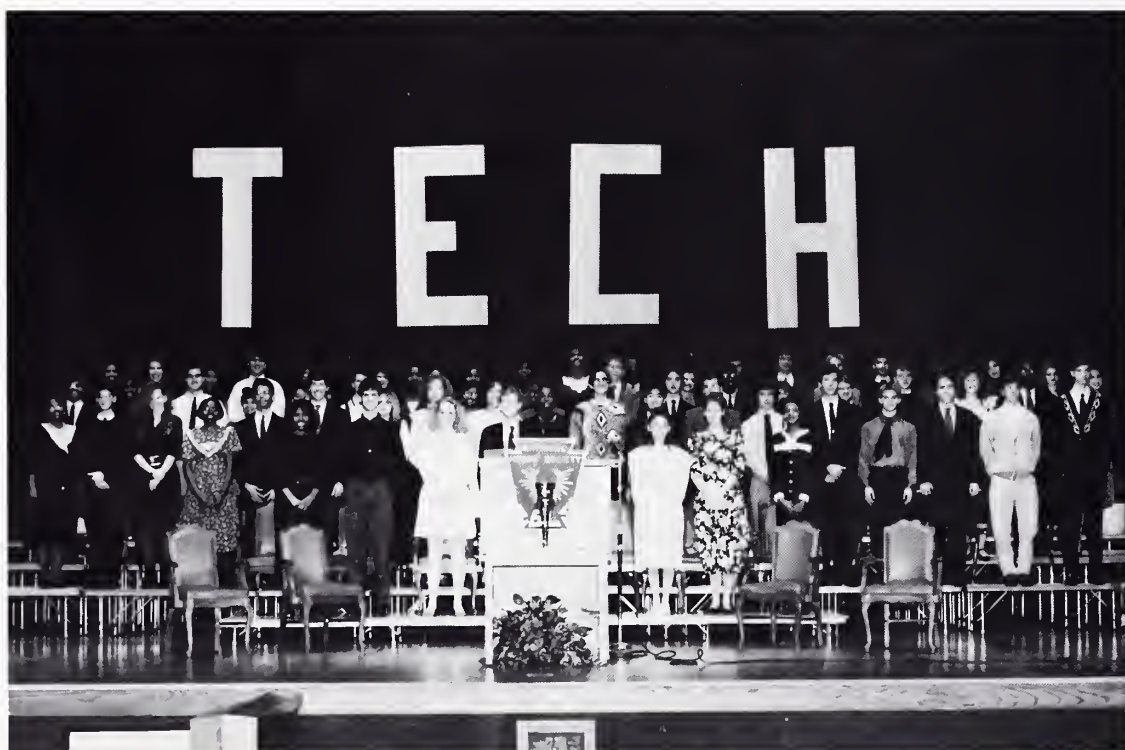

Lisa Rogers and Kelly Kuner prepared for a BIG night on the town.

National Honor Society Induction Led by President Lonnie Fultz

Service, character, scholarship, and leadership are the four qualities that National Honor Society holds dear. Currently, the organization is concentrating on service to Tech. Led by President Lonnie Fultz, V.P. Aashish Patel, and Secretary Michelle Reed planned several activities for the year. Semester honor roll ribbons will be given to students with a 6.5 or better GPA. NHS hosted a Mother's Day Tea honoring mothers of students with 90 percent attendance. NHS also sold oranges for scholarships.

The Tech National Honor Society advisor is Mr. William McCreary of the Business Department.

Alumni President awards Rachel Butler with an honor sweater.

Seniors Carry On Tradition of Excellence

In the 1991 Graduation Ceremony honorable seniors were awarded some prestigious awards. The Salutatorian was Christopher Ovelton. The Valedictorian was Sara Benjamin. These two students received these awards for having the highest scholarship achievement out of their class.

The English Department distributes an award in memory of Tech's first English teacher. This award presented by Mrs. Diane Comstock went to Kristina Kern. The Benjamin Johnson award presented to a male and female who exemplified leadership and citizenship to the school and country went to Aisha Woodard and Brian Osborne. Yolana Wakefield and Clifford Chapman were the recipients of the Milo H. Stuart Award. This award is in memory of the first principal.

In memory of the second principal, Dewitt S. Morgan, there is an award given to two students who display high qualities of good citizenship during high school. Denise Upshaw and Erasmus Kemp received this honor.

Five students from the Graduating Class of 1991 received the Tech Alumni Association Scholarships. They were Sara Benjamin, Kevin Marsh, Christopher Ovelton, Leon Spencer, and Hope Spivey. The Ella Sengerberger Cannon Alumni Award was presented to Crystal Reid.

Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 1991. May each of you continue the tradition of excellence of Arsenal Technical High School.

Don Earl Martin, Jason Hill, and Diana McLucas reflect on past experiences at Tech.

Not even a hurt leg will slow down Principal June Collins Rimmer for her first Tech graduation!

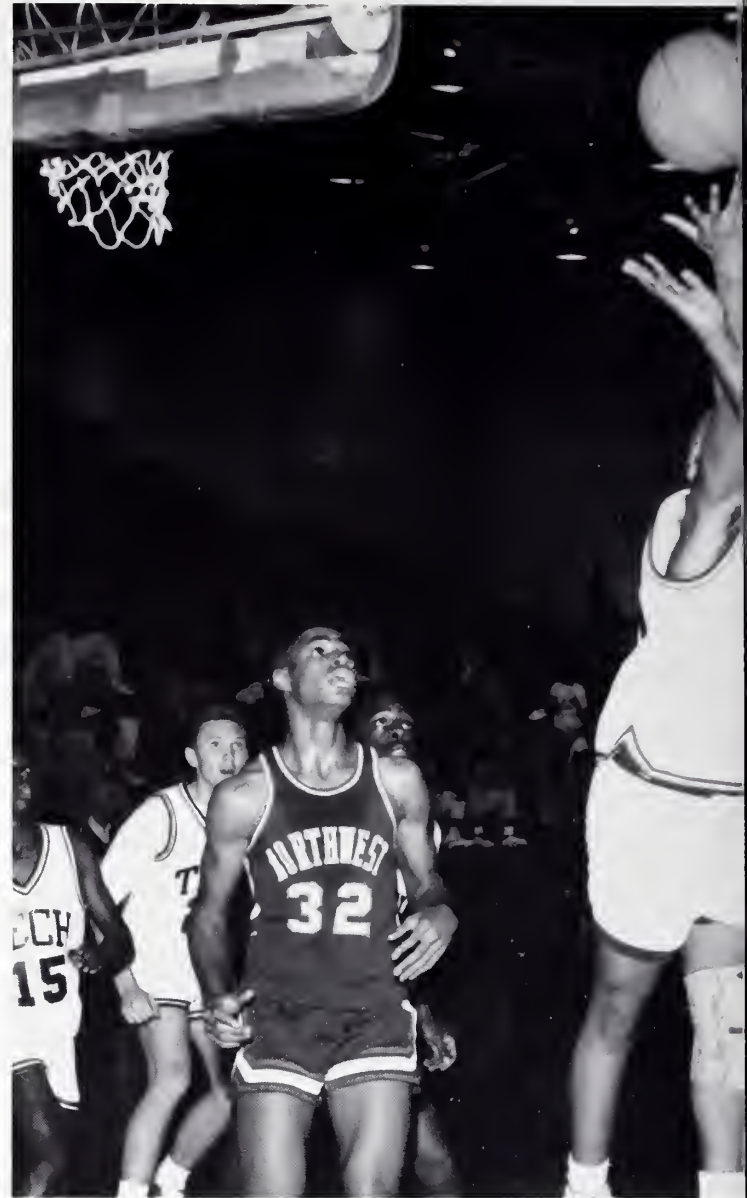

Sam Kent, senior, "I think the awards given on Supreme Day are the most prestigious honors a Tech graduate can receive. It feels good to be a Titan and to know the tradition of excellence will be carried on by future classes."

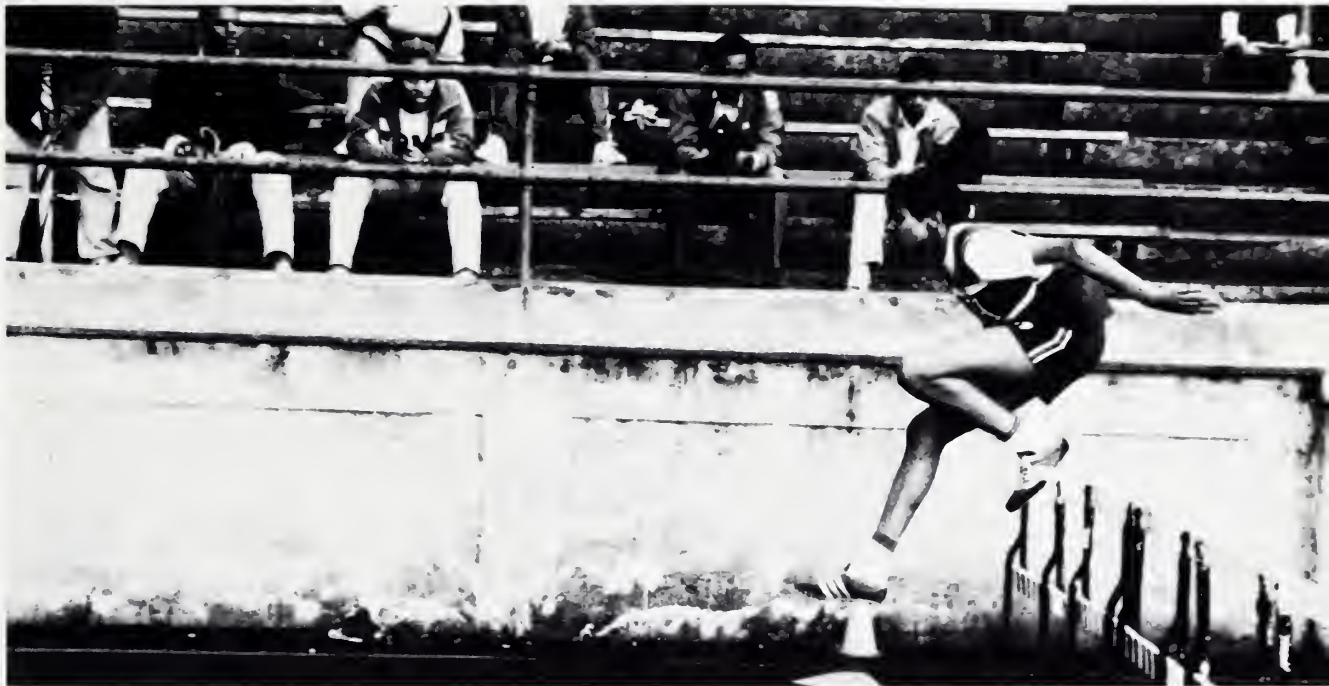

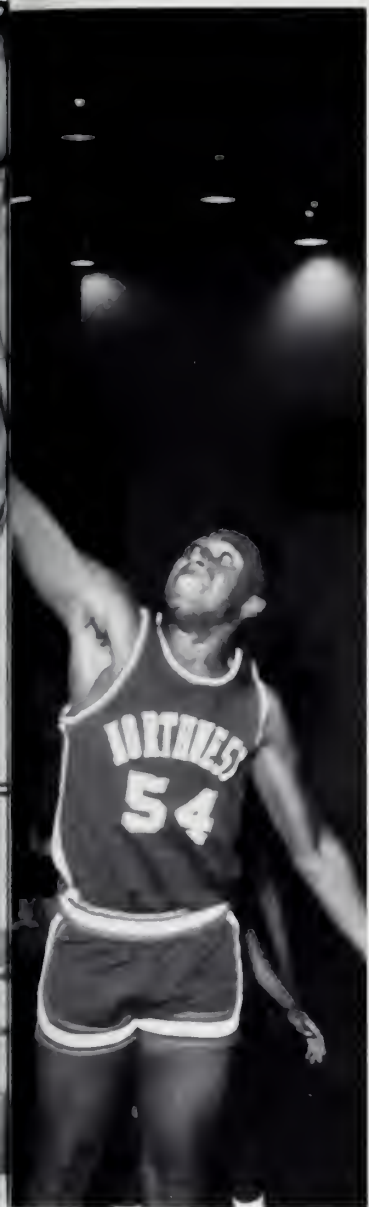

James Small, junior, "When I become a senior, I hope to receive some awards on Supreme Day. Looking at the seniors receive their awards, I become motivated to strive for an award."

Best friends Crystal Reid and Jocelyn Fenton are anxious to start the BIG things in life.

SPORTS

One! Two! Three Strikes!

Tech baseball is also on the rise with Mr. George moving into the 23rd year of coaching the Titans and are expecting to do well. Mr. George is assisted by Coach Staines, and Mr. Helms is the Junior Varsity coach. Helms came to Tech from Arlington, one of the Titan's biggest rivals.

This year's returning varsity players are Joe Ahern, Jason Graham, Jamie Stallings, Raymond Bolen, Elton Pruitt, Danny Cross, and Andie James.

Last year's record was 14-12, and one of this year's goal is to improve upon that record. Another goal is to win the Indianapolis Public Schools Athletic Conference.

Graduations hit the pitching staff pretty hard. Experienced pitching will be a problem this year. Some major players on this year's team that played on J.V. last year are William Spargur, Bradley Harnish, and Robert Harmon. This year's team would like to defend the IPSAC championship and upset one major team.

Last year's golf team coached by Mr. Kleine finished with a 7-6 record. This year's team has three returning seniors, which are all captains: James Curtis, Jody England, and Lonnie Fultz. Other returning players are Tyle Milligan, Tony Christenberry, and Cory Mosena.

These six players along with eight others attended the first golf meeting. Mr. Kleine can only keep ten players and fifteen signed up to play.

"This year's team has the potential to be our best team since 1981, and our goal is to reach that potential," remarked Mr. Kleine.

Boys and Girls Swim Team had a successful season. The guys has a great victory against Washington. The Titans were down 14 points and came back to win by seven. With a record of 6 wins and 10 losses, the team place fourth in the City and second in IPSAC. Gary Rainey was captain.

Members on the girls team include: Kristen Harling, Ninya Hiese, Nicole Washington, Cathy Miller, Dara Shamblin. Not having enough members on the team hurt and kept Tech second in IPSAC. Individual honors went to Carrie Maddox, Christa Harling, and Ninya Hiese, all champions. The relay team of Cathy Miller, Ninya Hiese, Christa Harling, and Carrie Maddox placed first in 400 free while the realy team of Cinday Meyer, Hiese, Harling, and Maddox were first in the 200 medley.

Tech Titan 1992 Basketball team was spectacular! They finished at 13-9 to win the IPSAC crown by defeating Manual in the last game of the season. "The boys have a good record of 10-6, but they lack the support they need," said Coach Craig early.

The players have their view of how well they did this season without Titan Cheers. They all agree that the games were tough. Early victories gained recognition from local television. Cathedral played the spoiler as they took the City Championship from the Titans. John Baker led scoring, Walter Norris led rebounds, and Greg Williams led steals.

"I think that we did pretty good. We had the speed, and that's what made the difference," said DeQuincy Bibbs.

Greg Williams said, "I feel good about our accomplishments. We are good and next year the team will be even better."

Saving Earth Begins Now at Tech Campus

It is a time to start recycling so that we can preserve the earth for our children. That is exactly what our Tech Green Machine is trying to do.

In the recent months, it has been noticed by many people that some of the labels on plastic wrappers state that "this plastic is biodegradable," meaning the plastic will disintegrate.

Many are concerned about the ozone layer depleting because of the Green House Effect, while others bake in the sunlight absorbing cancerous ultra-violet rays. The Green House effect occurs when the sun's rays reflect off the earth's surface and are trapped as heat by atmospheric pollutants, such as carbon compounds. Weather patterns could be changed if these carbons cannot be absorbed by the world's oceans and forests. By educating ourselves about the problem and knowing what we can do to help will make a big difference.

Speech Is Success

The Arsenal Technial High Speech Team has been very successful this year. Being the only speech team in IPS, this team has proven that IPS is not inferior to other high schools.

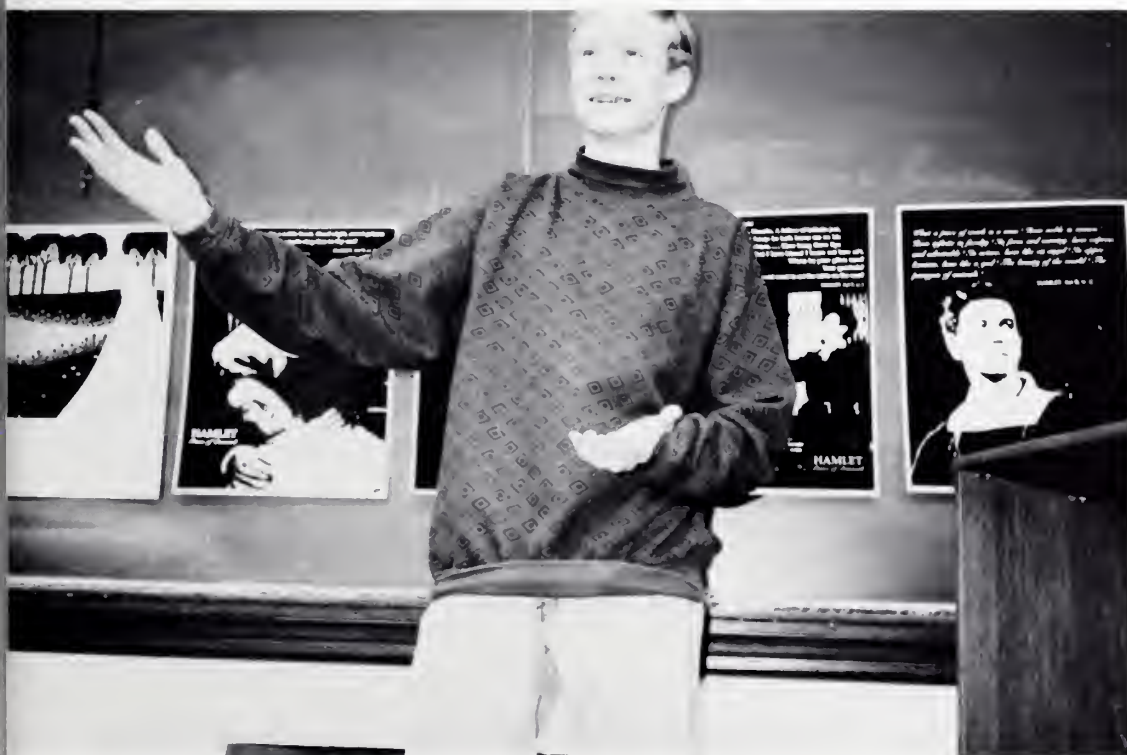

The team has competed at Connersville, Mooresville, Lawrence, Perry Meridian, Columbus North, Rushville, Danville, Brebeuf, Carmel, and the Tech Invitational. In all of these competitions, at least one Tech student brought home a ribbon.

Not only does this team emit postivity for IPS and Tech, but the students learn to be poised, self-confident, and how to interact with others. "I used to be so shy," commented James Curtis, "but now I am able to speak more fluently in front of a crowd of people."

Under the leadership of Ms. Judith McBride, the students have fun and feel good about themselves. Students also earned community contest awards.

Gestures and facial expressions are an important part of speech.

TECH JROTC Shines

Tech's JROTC program is one of the best in the state. The ROTC program has won many competitions and also provides many different services for the campus. Form Flag Detail to Band Guard, they provide the logistics and ceremony for events at Tech.

Last spring, through the United States Army, the Tech ROTC program won the Honor Unit with Distinction Award. Tech scored highest in the city attaining 984 out of a possible 1,000 points.

Vocational Education is for Everyone

Mr. Brinkerhoff is the VICA coordinator for the Tech campus. Fifteen members of the club will be competing in the VICA skills olympics which include interviewing skills, opening and closing ceremony, and automotive service.

In the Homecoming parade Mr. Brinkerhoff and Mr. Kinser, dressed in togas and Roman Helmets, drove a car built by the advanced auto shops.

Without the dedication of Mr. Brinkerhoff, Mrs. Clevenger, and other Career Center teachers, Tech's VICA students could not achieve nationally as they do.

ACADEMICS

Talented Writers

Quill and Scroll, Prelude Competition, and the Literary Magazine, all ambitious goals for young writers at Tech. Other writing experiences that are available include newspaper, yearbook, and journalism. New this year was the IPS Spelling Bee.

The award winning Literary Magazine, put out by the publications staff, is the anthology of writings from Tech Titans. The annual publication contains poems, stories, essays, and innovative sayings.

All of these programs and clubs are supported by the English Department with Mrs. Diane Comstock as department head. Most of the English teachers enjoy helping to develop future writers.

Making History

They've done it again! The Arsenal Technical High School Constitution Team won the State Competition for the fourth year in a row. The annual event is an effort of the Civic education and the Commission of the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution to promote awareness of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights among high school students.

The group made up six units, answered questions about constitutional topics, ideas and concepts of the Framers, the First Amendment, and other rights and responsibilities.

Under the leadership of Mr. Carl Schneider, the students brought prestige and honor to Titans across the nation by showing that Tech is "Making the Best Better."

New Math Course Intro to Regular Math

Much of the year was spent choosing texts. Many of the math teachers were in the First Cadre last summer. They prepared cooperative lessons intended to address learning styles of students. Manipulatives, learning theory, and practical experience led to motivated teachers.

At Math Day, Tech students competed with 400 other IPS students. Tech winners were Tracey Carson, Steve Shackelford, Tonya Webb, Shauia Tipton, Dillard Johnson, Andrew Pitts, Virginia Houston, Crystal Dotson, Katrina Brown, Anthony Williams, Elizabeth Adams, Tomika Lamb, Lemar Moreland, James Harris, Michael Lawless, Marvin Harris, Won Yin Lee, and Kesha Newell.

Donations Send Band To Peach Bowl Game

Indianapolis based Thompson Consumer Electronics presented a check for $3,000 to Marching Band which allowed the band to play in the Peach Bowl on December 31, 1991. A timely $1,000 donation was made by Tech's Partner in Education, The Associate Group. Parents, alumni, and Tech friends pitched in to raise the money for uniforms, instruments, and transportation to get the band to Atlanta where they performed in the pregame parade and at halftime.

Community media spread the message and the community responded. This was the first bowl appearance by an IPS band. The choral groups have appeared at Disney World in Florida.

Whether it is proudly marching in the Peach Bowl Parade or picking up the spirit at ball games, the band adds an extra sparkle to Tech.

The Sound of Music Comes to Roberts

Music Department Head Cynthia Hartshorn led an active and most productive year. Mrs. Hartshorn and her teachers began taking many music groups to special contests. The Varsity Singers, the Tri-M, and the band have been successful in competition.

Karen Hester is the orchestra teacher; Larry Dixon instructs the choirs. Steven Coomer leads the band which went to the Peach Bowl. The Technicians went to Disney World this past summer. Geisel Dallinger is the new accompanist. The new singing group is the Gospel choir.

I Know Your Speech; Six languages taught

Taking a foreign language gives you the opportunity to learn about different cultures while enhancing your appreciation for your country. Many students enjoy the melodious sounds of different languages, because "It's almost music to my ears," says senior Debra McNeal.

"By taking French, I learned what people of other countries believe in, strive for, and I have learned about other religions," says McNeal.

Lessons learned from foreign language will help to expand horizons and understandings of different cultures. The department is headed by Mr. David Banks. German will be added next year to the curriculum in newly dedicated Allen Hall, formerly known as the Barn.

Going into a new building, Allen Hall, foreign language students get state-of-the-art training.

Latin teacher Doyne Swinford readies his students in newly remodeled Allen Hall. Mr. Swinford also teaches at Howe.

Magnet Attraction Draws IPS Students

Want to learn Chinese, Japanese, Russian, or Arabic? How about going to college while still in high school? Have you ever wondered about co-oping in a doctor's office while going to school? Foreign Language Magnet, the Math/Science Magnet, and Health Professions Magnet are schools within a school which follow their own curriculum. Being in the magnet helps students learn: effective study skills, disciplinary skills, and cooperative learning. Magnets promote accelerated learning and independent study. Aashish Patel, senior, of the Math/Science Magnet said, "Being in the magnet has given a more realistic perspective on what college and the work force is going to be like."

In the Math/Science Magnet, students enter science fair competitions.

Life After High School

Senior year is the time for prospective graduates to start preparing for the future. This preparation may be in the form of going to college, vocational school, the military, or any other educational facilities. Deciding what direction seniors want their life to go in and preparing for it is one of the hardest choices for students to make. One must keep in mind that his decision will determine his future lifestyle. A wrong decision could mean a longer education, and more money and time spent. Careful evaluation of one's self and interests could eliminate these problems. Some seniors are still unsure of their career paths, while others know exactly what they want to do.

For seniors who are still unsure of their career plans, college seems to be the best choice if they want to further their education. In college, students are usually given two years to decide upon their major. During this time, one may double major to find what strikes his interests. A degree in biology or chemistry can students who plan to enter medical school. Students who plan to go to college have their own expectations about college. Jennifer Eroen expects to meet her husband there. Other students expect to earn a valuable education while at the same time becoming more responsible and socialized.

Other students opt to go to the military. While in the military, students earn money for themselves or for college. There are many opportunities to earn a trade in the military. Skills involved with electronics and emergency medical training along with other skills can be obtained. Some students think that serving in the military is also a patriotic symbol representing their willingness to give to their country.

Vocational school is another choice for seniors. A Tech vocational certificate is a head start. Vocational schools offer courses in medical assisting, plumbing, heating and air conditioning, nursing, and others which require only two years before graduating. Vocational schools provide students with necessary skills to start their careers. They are different than most colleges in that vocational programs only take about half the time to complete the certificate or degree.

Life after high school and planning for the future is an important part of a senior's life. Many decisions shape their futures are made during this time. The decision making process takes time, effort, an careful evaluation but in the long run, it's worth it.

“Yes, I’ve Got It, Too!”

It’s Monday morning. Your face is turning blue. Your hair is green. Your brain is itching and you have a fever of 98.7 degrees Fahrenheit. Yes, you’ve got it — Senioritis!

What exactly is Senioritis? It’s that intangible excitement about being a senior which sometimes grips students and makes them itch for freedom. Unfortunately, scratching that itch sometimes meant cutting class, leaving early, and skipping days.

What causes senioritis? Perhaps it’s the case of the carrot dangling in front of the rabbit. The prize — graduation — seems so close and so easy that seniors believe they can get it no matter what.

Sometimes Senioritis is caused by fear. Some students are inwardly afraid of the idea of graduation that they purposely miss school to fail. That way, they don’t have to face the realities of “life after high school.”

What are the results of Senioritis? Obviously, the worst result is a student who fails.

Remember Seniors, if you experience any of the above symptoms, get IMMEDIATE attention! Do not allow yourself to become a victim to the dreadful mental and physical disease, SENIORITIS!

Registration was in the cafeteria at the beginning of school. Although it was hot and lines became long, the new process worked.

On the first day of school, teachers Beth Gabrielsen, Desiree Elliott, Karen Beck, and William McCreary catch up on summer news.

PSTA President Chancey helps welcome freshmen to orientation. Students met instructors and were given a tour by student volunteers.

Events Capsule of 1991-92

Paul Simon and his 17-piece band dazzle the audience at a Central Park concert.

The brush fire that killed 19 people in Oakland, California, was the costliest blaze in U.S. history. The damage is estimated about $5 million dollars.

General Norman Schwarzkoff gives America a thumbs up after returning from the Persian Gulf War.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin waved the white-blue- and red flag for the Russian Federation building before a crowd of 100,000.

The Honorable Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall retired.

The Congressional hearings of Justice Clarence Thomas questioned what personal information is pertinent to the Supreme Court. Sexual harrassment became an issue. Later in Indianapolis, the Mike Tyson rape conviction captured the nation's attention.
